

Women in Engineering

A series of podcasts recorded by CIHT to support the recent International Women in Engineering Day feature Dana Skelley OBE talking about the importance of support networks for women within organisations; Anna Craciun discussing her work to promote STEM subjects in schools and Nick Tyler talking about entry requirements for engineering degrees.